Preparing for the Louisville Convention

NEW YORK, August 2[6].—A number of straight out Democrats, including Senator Stockton of New Jersey, Henry Thompson of Pennsylvania, Robert [...] of Kentucky, W H Carrie of Ohio and Henry Williamson of Maryland, met at Long Branch to-day to hear the report of the Executive Committee appointed by the Conference held at Long Branch last June. BY ATLANTIC CABLE

Cholera in Bombay

BOMBAY, August 27, via London 10 30 P M.—The cholera has appeared in the valley of Cashmere and is reported to be raging with great violence.

From the High Court at Geneva

NEW YORK, August 26.—The morning papers have some later dispatches from Geneva which indicate an early termination of the labors of the court in regard to the Alabama claims, etc. One of them publishes in full the closing arguments of the American counsel and the discussion on points submitted by the court for explanation subsequent to close of the counter cases. In the course of the argument it appears that the English counsel question the preventative powers of the laws of the United States for the preservation of neutrality in the case of a vessel unarmed or not in a condition to prevent the commission of hostilities at the moment of its departure from an American port and also cited instances in which filibustering adventurers had been sustained by the American law. To the first part of this argument Cushing replies by quoting the law of the United States and decisions of the Supreme Court sustaining the broad [...] interpretation of its preventive provision. The second part he disposes of by reminding the court that England is now before the tribunal accused of having failed to use diligence in observing the constitutional rules of the Treaty of Washington. That if America has failed or not in her duties of neutrality according to common law is not the question submitted to the arbitrators and that America will reply at the proper time and place for her acts to those whom such acts may have injured. It matters little argued Cushing what interpretation of municipal law England may understand. The interpretation of the law of the United States toward Spain, Mexico or even to ward England herself is not in dispute. There is only one question to be decided by the Geneva court. Has England failed yes or no in using due diligence required by the Treaty of Washington in the case of the anglo Confederate privateers.

Musical Festival at Geneva.

GENEVA, August 26.—The great musical festival yesterday was a brilliant affair. There was competitive singing participated in by one hundred and fifty societies during the day and a torchlight procession and fireworks at night. The festival closes to-night.

Schurz's Terms

[From the St Louis Democrat]

It was Mr Schurz's habit a few years ago not only to demand payment for his speeches but to compel payment in advance. His terms were money first, speech afterwards. Several first-class meetings had to be indefinitely postponed after the audience had assembled because the funds were not on hand to foot the great orator's bill. We hope the Greeley men are not strapped in any of the places for which Mr Schurz is advertised this year, but if they are it would be well in view of the effect of our Senator's oratory in North Carolina for Grant men to advance them a little money. We are not familiar with his scale of prices this year, but a few years ago it was his custom to charge so much apiece for denouncing prominent Democrats. He would for instance "skin" [Bl]udichs and Voorhees for $50 each in a single speech or devote a whole speech to either for $75. Then he charged $25 additional for abusing the Democratic party in [...] $25 for eulogizing Lincoln and $50 for a peroration urging his German fellow citizens to rally round the flag. We understand that he has increased his rates this year in view of his position as Senator, and that he charges $200 for abusing Grant without praising Greeley, or that for $500 he will call Grant a scoundrel and Greeley a patriot. He prefers to devote himself exclusively to abusing Grant and would rather not say anything in favor of Greeley at any price, but he is often obliged to yield his convictions for the sake of his customers.

In the Eighteenth Ward, New York city, there are three large Clubs for Grant and Wilson composed wholly of Democrats.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

The weather to-day is much cooler. The heated term is unprecedented throughout the States. Hundreds have been daily prostrated by effects of the weather.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Indignities to an American Citizen.

MADRID, August 27.—A letter says that a respectable citizen named Nathan Peake, from New York, came to Spain to purchase and sell maps on commission. After he finished his business at Madrid he went to Santander to embark for England. Here he was arrested, and on reaching the prison was searched and all his papers taken from him. He was detained there until 1 o'clock the next morning, when he was again arrested, without one word thus far from any one as to why he was subjected to such treatment. He was now ordered to take the train for Madrid under custody of two civil guards, being obliged to pay his own fare or come on foot all the distance. He demanded permission to communicate with the Minister or Consul and telegraph to friends at Madrid and secure legal advice, but was refused all these requests. At Madrid he was arraigned for having made sedition in the streets of Madrid about the time of the attempt to kill Amadeus. After a brief examination the case proved to be one of mistaken identity. Now like Dr Houard, he proposes to make Spain pay for his unjustifiable prison experience.

CALIFORNIA

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, August 27.—Coming in—Ship Ann e Fish, Newcastle; ship Republic, Newcastle.

Advices from the northern codfish banks state that the catch for this season will be very light, from what cause is not stated.

Carpentier in his answer to Matilda Heron Byrne Stoepel's application for support from the estate of the late Harry Byrne, avers that the marriage of Miss Heron to Byrne had been annulled before the marriage to Stoepel, as she swore on her application for alimony from Stoepel's estate, and as he expects to prove as soon as the necessary witnesses can be brought from New York.

Wagner, who appears to have been the originator of the charges of misappropriation of public funds against Keating, superintendent of the alms house, cannot be found. He was arrested on Saturday, but got released on habeas corpus, and the investigation cannot go on for reason that he is non est.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 27.—In the case of John Muller, who was supposed to have died from the effects of morphine taken with the intention to commit suicide, the post mortem by the Coroner shows that death was the result of congestion of the lungs. He was a German and came here from Oregon or British Columbia.

D A McFarland, livery stable keeper, was thrown from his buggy on Market street this evening and severely injured.

Judge Dwinelle of the 15th District Court is so ill that he will not attempt to hold Court to-morrow, and the Contra Costa perjury case in which Jas Hughes, who was tried for arson last week is defendant, will be postponed indefinitely. The Judge will go into the country for the present.

Jas T Farley, State Senator from Sacramento county, is lying very ill in this city from the effect of a paralytic stroke.

The Horticultural Fair as a financial venture is a failure and will probably close to-night or to-morrow. The expenses have been heavy and attendance small.

The Republican mass meeting at Platt's Hall this evening is one of the largest and most enthusiastic of the season. Every inch of standing room is occupied. The stage is occupied by a large number of leading citizens, German and American, and the galleries are crowded with ladies. At the opening of the meeting Governor Salomon of Washington Territory was introduced and proceeded to deliver an eloquent and effective speech in German, being interrupted by frequent and prolonged applause. He spoke for over an hour and was listened to with attention throughout. At the close of Governor Salomon's address the band played the Star Spangled Banner, but before the air was finished the applause became so deafening that the music closed and cheer after was given for Grant and Wilson, the Republican party and Governor Salomon.

Governor Booth was then introduced and received with enthusiastic applause. Despite the immense heat in the hall, the audience remained undiminished up to this time. Governor Booth spoke over three-quarters of an hour and at the close of his address the meeting adjourned with enthusiastic cheering.

She demands that five other academies shall join the Academy of Sciences, and that together they shall pay her the modest sum of one million sterling, for which she will yield up her secret.

The South Pacific Times, published at Callao, has an article on the horrors of Chinese emigration to Peru, in which it says that out of 43 301 Chinamen who have been shipped from Macao during the last eleven years, only 38 648 arrived in port, the remainder having died on the passage. One instance is given where out of a [...] cargo 300 only 30 arrived.

A smart lad in San Antonio, Texas, recently took his stand by the side of a blind organ grinder, and, hat in hand, solicited alms. When his tile was nearly filled by the sympathetic passers by he walked off, leaving the organist grinding away utterly ignorant of the whole transaction. This is the use to which the Democratic party is putting Greeley.

A coroner and undertaker, at Omaha, were notified of a dead man lying in an old malt house, near the Union Pacific depot, and finding a person on the floor, his face covered with some article of clothing, an inquest was suggested, when a sepulchral voice proceeded from the supposed corpse, saying "What in the h—l do you want? There are no dead men here."

A series of exercises commemorative of the twenty fifth anniversary of the organization of Plymouth Church and Sunday School, and the settlement of the Rev Henry Ward Beecher as Pastor will be held in the Church at Brooklyn, New York, during the second week of October next. Every person who has been a member of the Church is requested to notify the Church of their present residence.

A correspondent, writing from Des Moines, Iowa, says: "I had an interview a few days since with John Richard, residing about four miles from the city, who is remarkable for having made a trip on the first and fourth steamboats which sailed from Pittsburg, Pennsylvania. He also went to Cincinnati when there were but one small house, a blacksmith shop and a grog shop where the city now stands. He was born in 1'9', and is now hale and hearty, has a good farm, and reads with out glasses. He was born in Maryland, and came to this county in 1854."

The Imprisoned Ku Klux

By instructions from the President of the United States, Col Whitley, of the Secret Service Division, has made a special investigation of the cases of the Ku Klux prisoners confined at Albany, N Y. This inquiry was ordered for the purpose of obtaining a report as to the expediency of exercising executive clemency in the several cases. From Col Whitley's report we take the following interesting paragraphs:

The prisoners were mainly frank and communicative. Some of them are very poor and unlearned and have left large families behind them, and while acknowledging that they were members of the various orders of the organization known under the general head of Ku Klux Klan, and that they had been justly sentenced as such, plead in extenuation that they had joined the Order without a full knowledge of its aims and objects and had been incited to deeds of violence by their leaders, who had managed to escape from the country, leaving them to bear the responsibility and the punishment of their misdeeds.

A number of them stated that they had been compelled to join the Order to save themselves and families from a visitation of the Klan. Others had entered into its ranks under the supposition that it was a society organized for mutual protection, but learned subsequently that its real designs were the extermination of the negro race and the driving out of such of the whites as were in favor of the political equality and social elevation of the blacks. These several expressed the heartiest contrition for their misdeeds, stated that the organization was one inimical to the best interests of society and that the Government was fully justified in breaking it up.

In further extenuation of having been members of the Order they state that the operations of the Klan were wide spread, embracing within its folds men of superior intelligence, to whom they had been accustomed to look for advice and counsel, and whom, they did not suppose, would lead them into any combination that contemplated personal violence and murder if these were necessary for the accomplishment of its ends. They were told that it was a good institution, one to put down meanness in the country, and they accepted the statement implicitly.

About forty examinations were made in the manner above indicated, neither prisoner knowing that any one but himself had been called out, and none of them being aware, as before observed, of my official position or the object of my visit. There was a singular unanimity in these statements, and a general expression of regret that they should have been drawn into an organization differing so entirely in the object which they supposed it had in view when they joined it.

In reply to the general question what were the objects of the organization, the answer was almost invariably, "When we joined the Order we supposed it to be a society established for mutual protection, but after having been fully initiated, discovered it to be for a political purpose, which purpose was pledged in an oath, in which we swore to oppose the Radical party in all its forms, and prevent the negroes from voting. It was this great deception that misled us and which has brought us into our present condition."

The contrition manifested by many of the prisoners, the hearty abhorrence expressed by them for the acts into the commission of which they claim they were betrayed by unscrupulous and designing men of more enlightened minds, their general want of intelligence and their extreme poverty, all appeal strongly for mercy.

My views as to the expediency of restoring any of them to society through the exercise of Executive clemency are clearly in favor of such a course with some portion of them, and I believe it may be done in some of the cases not only with great safety, but fully in the interest of the public good. (Here follows a list of those recommended for pardon.)

Ignatius Loyola

THE FOUNDER OF THE ORDER OF JESUITS

The 31st of July was the anniversary of the death of the remarkable man who founded the order which is now exciting attention on account of recent orders in relation to [it] in Europe, and some account of his life may at this time be found interesting. Ignatius Loyola, "a Spanish soldier and hidalgo, with hot Biscayan blood," was, in 1521, fighting in the defense of Pampeluna against the French, when a cannon ball fractured his right leg, and a splinter injured his left. He was carried to the neighboring castle of Loyola, and in the weary months in which he lay stretched upon his couch, he [tried] to while away the time in reading the "Lives of the Saints." He was only 30, he had a [...] and vehement will, he had led a wild and vicious life, and had burned for military glory. As it was evident that for him [...] the part of a soldier was barred, the q[uestion] arose, "Why might he not be a [saint] and rival St Francis and St. Dominic?" He decided to try. He tore h[imself from] his kindred and friends and made a pilgrimage to the Holy Land.

In the church of the Virgin at Mo[n]serrat, he hung up his arms, and vowed [...] obedience to God and the church. D[...] as a beggar, and in the practice of the [severest] austerities, he reached J[erusalem] on the [4th] of September, 1523. On his return to Spain at the age of 33, he resumed his education, which had been neglected from childhood, and laboriously from the rudiments of [gram]mar worked his way through a full [uni]versity course, making no secret of his ignorance. The rigor of his life, and the rebukes he administered to lax ecclesiastics, not unfrequently brought him into trouble as a Pharisee meddler.

He went to Paris in 1528, and at the university he made the acquaintance of Xavier, Faber, Lainez, Bobadilla and Rodriguez, five students, whom he inspired with his own devout fervor. In an under ground chapel of the church of Montemartre, on the 15th of August, 1534, the six enthusiasts took the solemn vows of celibacy, poverty and the devotion of their lives to the care of Christians and the conversion of infidels. Such was the beginning of the famous Society of Jesus.

The plan of the new order was laid before Pope Paul III, who raised several objections to it, but on the engagement that it should in all matters yield implicit obedience to the Holy See, he granted them a constitution in a bull dated the 27th of September, 1540. Loyola was elected president, and was established at Rome as director of the movements of the society.

Very opportunely did the Jesuits come to the service of the Popedom. Unhampered by the routine of other ecclesiastical orders, they undertook services for which they alone were fit, and as sharpshooters and skirmishers became the most annoying and dangerous antagonists to Protestantism. To a certain freedom of action, the Jesuit united the advantages of perfect discipline: obedience was his primary duty. He used his faculties, but their action was controlled by a central authority, every command had to be wrought out with all his skill and energy, without questioning, and at all hazards. It was the aim of the society to discover and develop the peculiar genius of all its members and then to apply them to the aggrandisement of the church.

Soon the presence of the new order, and the fame of its missionaries, spread throughout the world, and successive Popes gladly increased the numbers and enlarged the privileges of the society. Loyola brought more ardor than intellect to the institution of Jesuitism. The perfection of its mechanism, which Cardinal Richelieu pronounced a masterpiece of policy, was due to James Lainez, who succeeded Loyola as President.

Worn out with labors and privations, Loyola died on the 31st of July, 1556, aged sixty-five. He was canonized as a saint in 1622, and his festival is celebrated on the 31st of July.

How the Current Runs

In Pennsylvania [illegible] the reports [illegible] decidedly better [illegible] the [illegible] ticket in October will have [illegible]. There has been a reaction [illegible] majority [illegible]. Republican majority in the State is fully twenty thousand and that it can by no means be cut down below ten thousand on Governor. In New York Republicans are becoming more hopeful and even gaining confidence that they will carry the State. The Democratic defection from Greeley is known to be greater than the Republican defection from Grant. General Dix's nomination greatly strengthens the Republican cause. In nearly every ward of New York city large clubs composed wholly of Democrats have been formed for Grant and Wilson and by good judges it is considered doubtful whether that city which has heretofore thrown from fifty to seventy thousand Democratic majority will give half that for Greeley.

Next week Vermont holds her annual election, opening the ball for the Northern States. Of course in Vermont it is only a question how large the Republican majority will be. It ought to go anywhere from fifteen to twenty thousand. The following week (Sept 9) the annual election occurs in Maine. That State for three years past has been throwing about ten thousand Republican majority. This is the Presidential year, and the majority should go to twelve or fifteen thousand. A very active canvass is now going on in the State, and Republican prospects are said to be excellent. Maine Republicans are thoroughly aroused and making an unusually vigorous fight.

Indiana is the scene of a very exciting contest. It is the only one of the great central States which the Greeley Democracy have strong hopes of carrying. But the Republicans of Indiana are making a splendid fight. They were never more active or more hopeful. Vice President Colfax is canvassing there. He is a shrewd political observer, and he says that the Republican prospect is as promising as it was in 1864 or 1868. Illinois, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota and Kansas have great Republican majorities which cannot be seriously shaken.

Greeley journals as the Springfield (Mass.) Republican express surprise at the great power the Republican organization is developing, and remarks that it is absolutely forcing the fight at all quarters. This is undoubtedly true; the Republican party takes an aggressive attitude and will force the fight everywhere till November.

Fruit Drying

An article in the Philadelphia Press contains practical suggestions in regard to fruit drying, a subject of importance to the people of our State. A cheap and highly useful process may be provided by setting a common parlor stove within brick walls, forming a hot air chamber. The stove is to be so arranged as to carry the blast up a tube on an inclined plane. The fruit is arranged on latticed trays and the lower ones, over the greatest heat are dried first. After being in this position a short time another tray of fresh fruit is introduced, which forces the preceding one a stage further up. The process is quite rapid. To put it in operation will require from $25 to $50, and it will dry a large quantity of fruit in the course of a season.

In some places in the center of great fruit districts the "Alden process" has been put in operation. For this a steam engine is employed to drive a current of hot air up a column of latticed trays set one above another. The trays are set in from the top one over the other, and are made to descend. Thus they are set in the coolest end of the shaft and meet increased heat as they approach the bottom. The process is very costly, from $20,000 to $100,000 being required to start an Alden factory, according to the probable amount of business to be done. The paring and preparing has to be done by hand but after this a few hours work puts the material in marketable condition.

Twenty five years ago people used to meet at "apple-cuttings," and the occasion partook both of a business character and social gathering. It went around through the neighborhood from house to house and sometimes there were festivities, music and dancing. The apples were pared, sliced and strung on strings to be exposed to the sun and taken in at night, and after they were pretty well dried they were suspended by the strings from sundry pegs in joists and rafters to be taken down when wanted for use. All the features of those times are no more. Fruit drying is now a business, and is pursued on so great a scale that dried fruit is everywhere an article of merchandise. The "apple-cutting" with its social character is an obsolete thing, and now a days we rarely see the joists and rafters even of farm houses garnished with strings of apples dried for winter's use.

The New York Times says: It has been known for a few days past to prominent bankers in Wall street that Confederate bonds in Europe, which before Greeley's nomination were worth little except for waste paper, have suddenly attained marketable value and none can be bought from parties owning them. Bankers of London and Frankfort claim to have advices upon authority that in the event of Greeley's election these bonds will be indorsed by the United States Government, and held as valid as its own issues. Although it may be an idle rumor, yet the political complection of the party supporting Greeley entitles the matter to some consideration.

Kentucky, neutral Kentucky, that sat calmly astride the fence during the late unpleasantness, and didn't care much which side beat, now sounds the bugle call to all lovers of peace in the world, and naming a National Peace Reunion, to be held in Louisville September 11th and 12th "to co operate in the effort to unite the citizens of every race in such bonds of devotion and fellowship as will restore and establish a lasting confidence in unselfish patriotism in every part of the country." Kentucky having always [illegible] peace and often or peace at any price, is an appropriate State as any to [illegible]. The Louisville hotels will be [illegible].

It is a small matter to talk about, but we may as well be correct even in small things. The Herald insists that the contract with Dr. Giltner increases the expenditure of [illegible] county by the sum of $400 per annum. Dr. Giltner is to receive $[illegible]00 a year. During the last twenty months there has been paid for the same service as the official records show $1[illegible]0 2 per annum. The matter is of comparison is an exceedingly trifling matter [illegible] wrong is in the view on of [illegible].

Through the [illegible] information [illegible] a [illegible] for North Carolina [illegible] neighbor [illegible] faith in the special [illegible] which told of twenty [illegible] and Democratic [illegible] [illegible] its [illegible].

COOS COUNTY

[illegible]

[illegible] started from [illegible] to Coos City, a new town site at the head of navigation on Coos Bay by way of the [illegible].

This is the [illegible] mountain [illegible] passed over. The grade is easy and uniform. Crossing the great range of mountains as it does it has [illegible] an immense amount of labor and good engineering to complete such a road. I have traveled over the military roads in Washington Territory and the main roads in Oregon but find the grade on the [illegible] of any. The distance from Roseburg to Coos City is sixty miles. The first twenty miles we cross the Umpqua valley, then start into the heavy timber for [illegible] and for about fifteen miles seem to [illegible] of civilization except the path over which we are riding. Then we go down into a beautiful tract of land, excellent soil but covered with a thick growth of myrtle and maple timber—no underbrush. A number of pioneers have settled in this valley and in time will hew out most valuable farms. After passing through this valley we come to the country, the garden of the agricultural portion of Coos county. On Coos river are some of the finest farms in Oregon. The grain and vegetables produced along this river would awaken our Umpqua and Wallamet valley farmers. The agricultural district here however is limited. Farmers in Coos county do their marketing in boats; they load their boats and drift to market on the tide, are happy as lords and never care if the thermometer rises to 100 degrees out here for their climate is cool and uniform. On arriving at Coos City we go on board a small steamer bound for Empire City and pass down the bay touching at various points. The bay is fringed on either side with green forests. Numerous large steam sawmills are located along its shores furnishing millions of feet of lumber for foreign markets. Extensive coal mines are being worked at different points on the Bay. This is beyond doubt the finest and most extensive coal region on this coast, and the day is not far distant when this country will give employment to untold numbers of coal merchants and shippers. We pass North Bend, Marshfield and South Bend, all towns of considerable size, before arriving at the county seat of Coos county. Empire is not a very large city but it is full of business; in fact Empire City is a California town; they do all their business direct with San Francisco. Steamers, schooners, boats and brigs run into the bay and load with coal and lumber. As many as 20 vessels were lying in the Bay at Empire at one time. Near the town is standing like a sentinel of time with its top in the clouds (of a cloudy morning). Every morning the captains of the tug boats go to the summit of Telegraph Hill to see if there are any vessels off the bar to be towed in.

THE [illegible] VALLEY

CO[illegible]

E[illegible] CITY

TELEGRAPH HILL

Coos county has in the past been isolated from her sister counties, but her sun of prosperity is now beginning to rise, and ere long Coos will be numbered among the wealthiest counties in Oregon. Respectfully

Arms Sales Redivivus

Dr H D Meier, editor of the Cleveland (Ohio) [illegible], has addressed the following letter to the Cleveland Leader confirmatory of the statement of Dr Canisius, United States Consul at Vienna, to the effect that Germany sold arms to the Southern Confederacy during the war of the rebellion. This showing spoils Liberal Carl's thunder.

To the Editor of the Leader: Dr Canisius, who, during the rebellion of our Southern secessionists was United States Consul at Vienna, the capital of the Austrian Empire, has given evidence in his recently published letter to the fact that the Austrian and Prussian Governments sold arms of every description to agents who forwarded them to the rebels. Now, at a time when there is so much talk by Carl Schurz and the Liberals about our "sale of arms" to France, I feel obliged to say what I know about the sale of arms to Southerners at that time, the legality of which was never doubted by the Germans so long as they had a hand in it themselves. In July or August 1862 I made a trip from Bremen to Hamburg and met in the diligence or stage coach, a personal friend of mine, a First Lieutenant named Seifert, of the Bremen Hanseatic battalion, and his brother in law, a Mr Borntreger, a commissioned landwehr officer of Dusseldorf, Prussia. In the course of our conversation they [illegible] that they were going to Hamburg in order to send a cargo of muskets bought from several German Government arsenals to the Southern States. This fact is still fresh in my memory, because a dispute arose between us over the question whether such a transaction carried out by military officials could be considered a legitimate business—the rebels being no acknowledged belligerent power. The last I heard of this sale was a rumor that the above named officers had had the worst of it, that is, had met heavy losses. It is however beyond my knowledge whether the [illegible] ever received those arms or not.

Respectfully yours

Gilmore's and the Jubilee

A Boston paper has the following:

Mr Gilmore is said to be about $160,000 in arrears now that the affairs of the Jubilee are being settled and his friends are trying to help him out of the difficulty. The Executive Committee have released to him the coliseum building which cost $100,000 and is thought worth $100,000 for $60,000 that he may use for entertainments as occasion offers and eventually sell it as best he may. It is also proposed to assess the deficiency upon the subscribers to the guarantee fund. The Traveler in pressing the claims of Mr Gilmore upon the public states that he was engaged for three years in getting up the Jubilee, visiting Europe and many of our own cities in its interest and spending his money freely. The proceeds of the so called Gilmore Day of the Jubilee were not taken for his benefit as generally supposed but put into the ordinary receipts. In view of his having made their city "more prominent in the eye of the world than ever before" and gaining for it [illegible] almost unknown on the continent of Europe a name and fame which are alike imperishable, Bostonians are urged to rally around him and give him that solid encouragement that pecuniary endorsement which he has so [illegible] earned. Mr Gilmore proposes now to give a series of musical entertainments in the coliseum in the hope that his fellow citizens thus urged [illegible] rally around him as invited and replenish his depleted pocket. Another report says that he proposes to give a grand concert in the building for which fifty thousand tickets will be issued at three dollars a ticket. A ball will be given and the tickets will be good for admission to either the ball or concert. Each ticket will give the holder a chance to become the lucky owner of the building, which will be assigned by lot. The affair will take place about the 10th of October and Mr Gilmore is in receipt of letters from choral societies and eminent artists offering their assistance.

Charles Mealey of Albany has a fig tree in his yard which was brought from California in 1869. This season it produced figs which have entirely matured. Dr. Vancleve of the [illegible] tasted them but says he don't hanker after green figs.

Two men at Salem were running a race with their wagons laden with grain on Monday last when one of them broke a hind wheel of his vehicle and his entire load was dumped on top of the driver, injuring him considerably. The race was for the first chance to unload.

A correspondent of the Salem Statesman sums up the results of the Dallas shooting affray as follows: Three men shot, one killed, one badly cut, one with a badly broken head; the town very much excited; most people think somebody ought to be hung or sent to the penitentiary for a term of about ninety nine years.

The Dallas [illegible] seems to think the Good Templars of Oregon will all support Greeley. Not much. There are about 300 in Multnomah county and not more than 25 Greeley men can be found among them. It is the same all over the State. Though the order we believe is in no sense a political one, we do not know of a member of it in [illegible] who is for Greeley.

The Salem Statesman's commercial reports contain the following in relation to the wheat crops of the present season: The harvest, we think, has demonstrated that the aggregate yield of grain is not so large as had been anticipated. While in some sections the crop gathered is fully up to or above the average yield per acre, it is certainly true that there are numerous districts where it is far below. Nearly all the spring wheat is short in yield. The greater than usual acreage reaped may make our surplus equal to that of last year, but the profit to the farmer is very considerably less per bushel, not only on account of the short average yield per acre but the greatly reduced price per bushel.

A Clatsop county correspondent writes as follows under date of August 22: "As editors are supposed to know everything, can you tell us what ails the potatoes? This crop is suffering seriously in this county from an attack of some unknown disease, or is it the ravages of microscopic insects? The leaf first turns black and rots, communicating the virus to the stock, which in turn suffers in the same manner, rotting to the ground. Its first appearance is identical with the effects of hard frost, and in several cases it was reported that there had been a killing frost which had cut down whole patches of potatoes, but it proved to be worse than frost, and we fear the entire crop of late potatoes will be destroyed. Any light on the subject will be thankfully received by many interested parties." Now if some of our agricultural friends will answer the above we will be much obliged, as what we know about farming would not be much more instructive than Horace Greeley's work on the same subject "What ails the potatoes" is the question.

Our Hillsboro correspondent says: The Tualatin Navigation Company have let the contract for the erection of six warehouses on the Tualatin river. One of these buildings is to be erected at the Hillsboro Landing, about a half a mile south of the town. These houses are to be completed within the next ten or twelve days, so as to be ready to receive grain for shipment. These arrangements come just in the nick of time. The farmers in the Hillsboro Plain and those along the river of the south Tualatin Plains will find a means of cheap and easy transportation for their grain. It necessitates a little farther hauling, but the reduction on tonnage will compensate for the trouble, and in fact as it is the only present means of shipment other than by wagons from these points the farmers should make free use of it. Quite a number of farmers say they will commence delivering grain as soon as the houses can be got ready. The opening of the Oswego Canal and also a projected canal connecting the lake and river at Hillsboro will insure a cheap and quick means of getting grain into market, as grain can be delivered on board of ships without further expense or unnecessary handling.

We have been shown a letter from a gentleman living in LeRoy, McLean county, Ill., which contains the following: "I heard a letter read from a Mr Murphy who went from this place last fall to Yamhill county, Oregon. He says Oregon is the most God forsaken country on the face of the earth; so dry that people are driving their stock to Colorado. There are no potatoes so dry people cannot raise them, and they are worth $2 a bushel. Everything is dried up, and all the old farmers are trying to sell out and remove to Kansas, Iowa, Illinois, Nebraska, and other places." The writer of the letter says: "I have no confidence however in what Murphy says." Now we are not acquainted with the Murphy referred to, but we will venture to say that he is vastly more God forsaken than the country which he so falsely denounces. And, needless every citizen of the State knows that his statements above referred to are false in every respect, not one of them having a shadow of truth from beginning to end. There is no State in the Union with as few drawbacks in an agricultural point of view, and it is only because occasionally some such a grumbler and falsifier as the Murphy referred to by some means happens to come amongst us, that any other impression ever gets abroad concerning Oregon. To those who have ever been in Oregon a denial of Mr Murphy's statements is not necessary, and it is only for the information of those who have not a personal knowledge of our climate, resources, etc., that we deem it necessary to thus defend the country from his untruthful and slanderous statements.

WEDNESDAY MORNING AUGUST 28 1872

CITY.

LIFE OF [illegible] —A few days ago [illegible] men noticed a young girl apparently aged [illegible] sixteen years hanging around [illegible] lowest den [illegible] on Second street She appeared [illegible] on the downward [illegible] of shame and [illegible] to ion and preserved still a good deg[illegible] modesty and simplicity neop[illegible] arable to [illegible] and chastity Her youthful—almost child [illegible]—and strange face at once attracted attention Inquiries were immediately made as to who she was and whence she came [illegible] day after [illegible] she was found in company with a [illegible] [illegible] who on being questioned closely by a [illegible] ceman stated that the girl was a lady friend of his and that he was engaged in hunting her a situation in some family The girl on being asked who she was and where she came from said that her father and mother lived in Iowa [illegible] she had some relatives in Yamhill county that she left them a few days ago and came to the city with the intention of going home to her parents the first opportunity that was presented [illegible] that she had been induced to stop on Second street by parties who had promised to procure her a situation in some family for a time The policeman told her what kind of a place it was where she was staying and used all the persuasion possible to induce her to leave the place at once and return to her folks in Yamhill county This she refused saying she should not return but intended to go to the States The officer asked her how she expected to get there as she had no money to which she answered she didn't know how Finding all remonstrance unavailing to induce the lost girl to renounce her course of life and go back to her relatives the officer abandoned her to pursue her own way down to shame misery and finally moral and physical death The [illegible] quite intelligent and seemed to be fully conscious of the results attending the life she had resolved to pursue Nothing can be ascertained as to the name or address of her relatives in Yamhill the girl declining to give either when questioned on that point She seemed determined to shut out every avenue of her reclamation from prostitution

CONCLUDED TO COME —A good joke is told of a certain constable who resides not a thousand miles from this city, and is as follows A few days ago a warrant of arrest was placed in his hands to serve on a farmer who lives several miles south of the city. Mr Constable took the warrant and started to find Mr Farmer Now Mr Farmer is a regular "six footer" and is decidedly on the shoulder, when worked up to the fighting [illegible] Mr Constable reached the place and found the man engaged in digging up a big fir stump near his house Constable draws out his warrant and proceeds to read it to Farmer but F says he can't see it Yes but says C, "You are my prisoner, and you must come to town with me Not by a long shot says F I'm in no particular hurry about going to town and I propose to dig this stump out before I leave." The officer became angry and so did the farmer one fellow swore that the other fellow should come to town, and that other fellow swore he'd do nothing of the sort. And so the battle raged until the two were about to try conclusions, when a bright idea suddenly struck the officer Instead of trying conclusions with the stalwart husbandman he would try Latin Putting on a ferocious countenance he said, "See here Sir I'm supposed to be an officer of the law and if you don't walk straight along with me, I shall return to town and bring about your ears a whole posse comitatus and I kinder guess as how that will fetch you The farmer stared a vacant stare and looked aghast that was a stunner to his stock of "larnin" and it sobered him instantly He could stand most anything but that Latin quotation effectually got him He put on his coat and didn't take the stump out till next day The constable is of opinion that there is still some power in a dead language, when used under a press of certain circumstances

BOARD OF TRUSTEES —The Board of Trustees of the Portland Academy and Female Seminary met last evening The following named persons were [illegible] ated as the Second Class of the Board of Trustees Rev I Dillon Rev J H Wilbur J D Holman A Waltz, H Y Thompson Henry Miller and J K Gill The following named persons were elected officers for the ensuing year Rev Wm Roberts President, J D Holman, Vice President, W S Ladd Treasurer A C Gibbs, Secretary Executive Committee, Rev Wm. [illegible], W H Watkins, E J Northrup and A. C. Gibbs Visiting Committee, Rev I Dillon, Rev Wm Roberts, Rev G W Izer, Rev [illegible], Rev A. L Lindsley and Rev A. L. Medbury The following persons were [illegible] a Committee to present the subject of the [illegible] of a General Agent for the Institution to the Annual Conference of the M E Church Rev J H Wilbur, Rev Wm Roberts, Rev T F Royal and Dr Wm H Watkins The Rev T F Royal, A M was elected Principal of the Institution for the ensuing year

FAILED TO APPEAR —A number of young men engaged in the pleasant pastime on Monday night of serenading a newly married couple in East Portland The diversion was indulged in from about 11 o'clock well towards daylight The instruments, though well played, did not produce those dulcet melodies calculated to soothe the nerves of [illegible] matrimonial candidate—not the [illegible] of the soft flute the wheezy accordeon or the twanging guitar The instruments of torture consisted of gongs bells horns and tin pans. The party besieged the house where the couple were staying and persistently blowed and pounded for a long time but all to no purpose The groom stubbornly refused to make his appearance, and at length the serenaders abandoned the effort and [illegible] red much to the joy of the residents of that quarter of the town Naturally the party are not favorably impressed with the [illegible] of the groom, who would neither [illegible] nor make a speech

ENTERTAINMENT —The following is the program of a musical and literary entertainment to be given this evening at Lee's Chapel (Brooklyn), to commence at 8 o clock Overture Prof G P Newell Anthem, "The Lord is King S[illegible] S F Bennett, Acting Charade Song and Response, Recitation, "Witch's Daughter," Miss F B Kelly Quartette Moonlight on the Lake Declamation, "Soliloquy of a Single Gent Loyal Korn Tableau, "Jonathan's Courtship Solo "Death of Warren" T L Dugger, Original Poetry Stephen Maybell "Annie Laurie," with original variations Prof Newell Declamation and Tableau Solo, Miss Pease, Tableau "The Two Brides" Trio "Mermaid's Evening Song Irresistibly Impudent;" Quartette Four Years More

SPORTSMEN'S CLUB —A special meeting of the members of this Club was held last evening at the Police Court room at 7 30 o clock.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved

Messrs C J S[illegible] John Green [illegible] mes L Hughes, Charles A Hughes and Ben Holladay [illegible], were admitted as members of the Club

The Committee on Game Laws then reported a draft of a game law to be presented at the next Legislature which was received accepted and the Committee discharged

On motion the game laws as reported were taken up by sections and after sundry alterations and amendments were adopted after which the Club adjourned

OF NO VALUE —In order to save time and trouble many persons who have made out statements of their [illegible] property have executed the same with a pencil, and enclosing the document in an envelope sent it to the Assessor through the Postoffice By so doing instead of avoiding trouble, such persons have only made that article for no notice whatever will be taken of such statements, and the same will be treated as so much waste paper by the Assessor Statements to be valid, must be made out in ink certified to before the Assessor and filed in his office He informs us that within the last few days he has received a number through the mail but has uniformly regarded them as so much worthless paper

SOUNDINGS —Soundings have been made by Engineer [illegible] of the channel of the river opposite the following streets in Portland Pine Morrison Taylor, Jefferson and Columbia streets—the two latter surveys crossing each other at angles The Pine street survey shows the distance at that place to be much less than at the others although the water at that place is the greatest in depth while at Jefferson and Columbia streets the river is the widest and the most shallow As soon as the site is located which will be done to day operations will be actively commenced by boring and a minute, careful examination of the character of the river will be made to ascertain the character of the material composing the bed

The Five Knaves—An Oriental Tale.

BY JOHN G. SAXE.

Once on a time in Indostan,
A thief conceived a cunning plan
(So potent is the voice of hope)
To save his throttle from the rope,
Though now the day was drawing nigh
When he by law was doomed to die.
He bade the jailor tell the king
He fain would show a wondrous thing—
A precious secret, fairly worth
The ear of any prince on earth.
And now the culprit, being led
Into the royal presence, said,
"This golden seed which here you see
If planted, will become a tree
Whose fruit—increased an hundred fold—
Will be, like this, the purest gold.
I pray your majesty to try
If this be true before I die."
With this, the king and courtiers went
Into the garden with intent
To plant the curious corn of gold!
But now, when all was ready, "Hold!"
Exclaimed the thief—"this hand of mine
Would surely spoil our whole design;
The hand that plants the gold must be
(Else all is naught) entirely free
From stain of fraud; and so I pray
Your gracious majesty will lay
The seed in earth!" "Yes—no—" quoth,
The king replied, "for in my youth
I suffered from my sire, some stain
For all my sorrow must remain.
My good Prime Minister is here,
His hand, no doubt, is wholly clear
Of any taint." "Nay," he replied,
"That's more than I can well decide,
As tax receiver—now—I may
Have kept a trifle. So I pray
To be excused for prudence sake,
And let our Commissary take
The corn in hand." "Sure that were best,
For he, no doubt, can stand the test."
"Faith!" said the Commissary, "I
Would rather not. I can't deny
My good intent; but since I pay
Large sums of money every day
For soldiers, sailors and a herd
Of spies—I wouldn't give my word
I have not kept a small amount
Not entered on my book account.
Since an error—e'en the least—
Would spoil the charm, pray let the priest
Proceed to plant the coin of gold."
"Nay, that I fear would be o'er bold;
Despite my prayers and pious zeal,"
Replied the Reverence, "I deal
In tithes and sacrificial dues;
And so I beg you will excuse
My sharing in a work like this,
Where nothing must be done amiss."
"Faith!" said the thief, "since no man here
(As we have learned) is wholly clear
Of knavish tricks, I ask you whether
We would not all be hung together!"
The monarch, laughing, made reply,
"Why, yes, if every rogue must die;
Well, since we five are knaves confest,
I pardon you and spare the rest."

Physical Effects of Music.

[From Watson's Art Journal.]

It communicates to the body shocks which agitate the members to their base. In churches the flame of a candle oscillates to the quake of the organ. A powerful orchestra near a sheet of water ruffles its surface. A learned traveler speaks of an iron ring which swings to and fro to the sound of the Tivoli Falls. In Switzerland I excited at will, in a poor child afflicted with a frightful nervous malady, hysterical and nervous cataleptic cries, by playing on the minor key of E flat.

The celebrated Dr. Bertier asserts that the sound of a drum gives him the colic. Certain medical men state that the sound of the trumpet quickens the pulse and induces slight perspiration. The sound of the bassoon is cold; the notes of the French horn at a distance and of the harp are voluptuous. The flute, played softly in the middle register, calms the nerves. The low notes of the piano frighten children.

I once had a dog who would generally sleep on hearing music; but the moment I played in the minor key, he would bark piteously. The dog of a celebrated singer whom I knew would moan bitterly, and give signs of violent suffering, the instant his mistress chanted a chromatic gamut.

A certain chord produces on my own sense of hearing the same effect as the heliotrope on my sense of smell and the pineapple on my sense of taste. Rachel's voice delighted the ear by its ring before one had time to seize what was said, or appreciate the purity of her diction.

We may affirm, then, that musical sound, rythmical or not, agitates the whole physical frame, quickens the pulse, incites perspiration, and produces a pleasant momentary irritation of the whole nervous system.

An Old Record.

[From the Vancouver Register.]

We have inspected the original poll list of the election held in this place in 1853 for members of the Legislature and county officers, at which there were 94 votes cast. Among the names recorded on that list and who voted at that election, were U. S. Grant, now President of the United States; C. C. Augur, Brigadier General in the United States Army; H. E. Wallen, a Colonel of Infantry; H. C. Hodges, a Lieutenant Colonel in the Quartermaster's Department; Captain J. C. Brent, Lieut. J. Withers, and Col. B. L. E. Bonneville, all of them stationed here at that time. There were also among the voters Samuel D. Smith, Esq., now of Walla Walla, Dr. Wetmore, long since deceased, and a number of old pioneers, many of whom have gone to their long homes, but who are honorably remembered and their names kindly cherished. At that election there were two tickets in the field, both of them Democratic, and the "irregular" ticket was elected by the military voters, among whom was our present distinguished President. At the subsequent session of the Legislative Assembly, a law was passed disfranchising the officers and soldiers of the United States Army, since which time up to the commencement of the rebellion, Clarke county always elected the "regular" Democratic ticket. The old record further shows, that Lieutenant U. S. Grant was charged with two dollars poll tax and taxes on seven hundred and forty dollars worth of personal property, all of which were marked "paid." The antiquarian might fish out of these old records quite a number of interesting reminiscences.

A Model Apology.

The gentle editor of an Eastern journal makes the amende honorable in the following elaborate style:

There is a fly in our office, one particular, aggressive fly, distinguished from his brethren by a pertinacity and untiring energy that, if properly directed, are enough to make him President. Other flies we can dispose of by whisking a paper at them, or putting them out of the window. But this fly we can't manage. We don't like to kill flies. There is something so confiding about them, and it seems like a breach of hospitality to kill them. That fly tumbles into our inkstand, crawls out and dries his little feet by walking over our paper as we write. The compositor has hard work to decipher our manuscript sometimes. And in this connection, we would make a slight correction. In the last number of our paper, we called the Hon. Mr. "an unprincipled demagogue;" we should have said "a high toned patriot." It was all the fault of that fly. The brother of the Hon. Mr. came into our office this morning with a new and substantial looking cane and reminded us of the misprint.

THE OPEN POLAR SEA.—The open Polar Sea must be discovered soon, if at all. At least, so argues a writer in Nature (an English periodical), who believes the sea will soon cease to exist. Land is said to be rising everywhere between the pole and the fifty-seventh parallel, and the greatest movement is at the pole itself. Some interesting facts are quoted in support of the theory. Pliny said that Scandinavia was an archipelago, and spoke of bold seamen who had circumnavigated the group of islands. Ptolemy confirmed the statement. Celsius said in the seventeenth century that Norway was rising at the rate of forty inches a year. Sir Charles Lyell indorses the theory. The water level in the Gulf of Bothnia falls one foot every fifteen years. Near Geffe there are low pastures where old men remember of seeing boats afloat. Near Stockholm, seventy feet above the level of the sea, the remains of shell-fish identical with the coast species are found. At Soduleige, ninety feet above high water, there is a bed of sand which contains wrecked boats and an old anchor. In the interior of Spitzbergen, skeletons of whales have been unearthed above sea level. The fishermen say the land has risen so much that the shallowness of the water has driven away the right whale, which, once abundant, is now rarely seen. On the Pacific, the shores around Behring's Strait are low and flat, but a mile or two back there are ranges of bluffs parallel with the coast, and containing innumerable shells of the littoral species. If the theory is true, it offers us a curious case of compensation. While the ocean is washing away Great Britain, France, Holland, and New England, way to the north the continents are encroaching upon the sea. The only thing to be regretted is that the thing cannot be reversed, and Neptune enriched at the expense of the frozen North, and to the gain of the more habitable South.

GIRLS. BY A BOY.—Girls are the most unaccountablest things in the world—except women. Like the wicked flea, when you have them, they ain't there. I can cipher clean over to improper fractions, and the teacher says I do it firstrate, but I can't cipher out a girl, proper or improper, and you can't either. The only rule in arithmetic that hits their case is the double rule of two. They are as full of Old Nick as their skins will hold, and they would die if they couldn't torment somebody. When they try to be mean they are as mean as pusley, though they ain't as mean as they let on, except sometimes, and then they are a good deal meaner. The only way to get along with a girl when she comes at you with her nonsense, is to give her tit for tat, and that will flummux her, and when you get a girl flummuxed she is as nice as a new pin. A girl can sow more wild oats in a day than a boy can in a year, but girls get their wild oats sown after awhile, which boys never do, and then they settle down as placid as a mud puddle.

But I like girls first-rate, and I guess the boys all do. I don't care how many tricks they play on me, and they don't care either. The hoity-toitiest girls in the world can't always boil over like a glass of soda. By and by they will get into the traces with somebody they like, and pull as steady as old stage horses. That is the beauty of them. So let them wave, I say; they will pay for it some day, sewing on buttons and trying to make a decent man of the feller they have spliced on to, and ten chances to one if they don't get the worst of it.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

TUESDAY EVENING, August 27, 1872.

Gold in New York to-day, 113.

Portland Legal Tender rates, 87½c buying; 89 selling.

The Spanish bark Manila, now in port has been chartered to carry Wheat to the United Kingdom for £5 per ton. This is 70c per bushel, nearly.

The Webfoot from San Francisco, arrived to day in tow of the tug Ben Holladay. The Webfoot brings a large cargo of assorted freight—about 650 tons. She is discharging cargo at Flanders' wharf.

The report to the effect that the British ship Siam, from Middleborough, bound for this port with a cargo of iron, is in the river is without foundation. The Dixie Thompson reports no vessel, either off the Bar or in the river, bound up.

Rates for money in San Francisco are stiffening. Very heavy demands are made on the money reservoirs for funds to move the crops to market before the rainy season sets in. This is the chief cause of the shortness of supply and hardening of rates.

We have already spoken of the scarcity of tonnage as affecting the lumber trade. Latest mail advices from San Francisco state that the price of lumber among dealers is steadily advancing, partly owing to increased freights and partly to combinations among holders.

A San Francisco report of the 22d states that the price of California Golden Syrup has been reduced ten cents per gallon for all sized packages. The Syrup recently from the Hongkong Sugar Refinery, in bbls, etc., is of low grade—really nothing more than 30 cent Molasses. It is not probable that further imports will be made as it can be more profitably utilized in China by distillation.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,
623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of long standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying maladies—see that they are cured for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by other of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. One of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets, for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, Post Office Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian. jy6d4pt

ADVERTISING AGENT
Rooms 20 & 21 Merchants' Exchange, California st., San Francisco,
SOLICITS ADVERTISEMENTS AND SUBSCRIPTIONS for the DAILY AND WEEKLY OREGONIAN and papers published in California, Oregon and Nevada, Washington, Utah, Idaho, Montana, Colorado, and adjacent Territories; Sandwich Islands, the Possessions, Mexican Ports, Nicaragua, Panama, Japan and China; New Zealand and the Australian Colonies, the Atlantic States and Europe.

ADVERTISING
Has created many a new business;
Has enlarged many an old business;
Has revived many a dull business;
Has rescued many a lost business;
Has saved many a failing business;
Has preserved many a large business;
And insures success in any business.

GIRARD'S SECRET.—Stephen Girard used to say in his old age: "I have always considered advertising liberally and long to be the great medium of success in business, and the prelude to wealth. And I have made it an invariable rule to advertise in dull times as well as the busiest, long experience having taught me that money thus spent is well laid out, as by continually keeping my business before the public it has secured many sales that I otherwise would have lost."

ADVERTISE YOUR BUSINESS.
KEEP YOUR NAME BEFORE THE PUBLIC.
JUDICIOUS ADVERTISING INSURES A FORTUNE.
IF BUSINESS IS DULL, ADVERTISE.
IF BUSINESS IS BRISK, ADVERTISE.
The man who didn't believe in advertising gone into partnership with the sheriff, and that does the advertising.
